Dear Darla,

Your query in Family Puzzler # 1235 was of great interest to me. My Husband's g-gr. mother was Margaret Ann Laughinghouse, of Kinston, Lenoir Co., NC, married Rev. James Barney Webb (see enclosed 5-gen. chart.) You are the first person I've found who was working on the Laughinghouse family. We do not know Margaret's parents' names except her mother was a Bryan & they are supposedly buried in Kinston.

I have enclosed a few pages that may help you (or you may already have them.)

I would greatly appreciate it if you could share with me any additional info you have on NC Laughinghouses.

Sincerely,

Shirley J. Kinney

to Arkansas: (Judge George Laughinghouse of that State was one of his descendants;) Joseph, who went to Alabama; and Edward L., who remained in Pitt and became a large planter. Edward L. had three children, William J., John H. and Annie. Annie married F. B. Satterwhite. John H., who, like his father, was a large planter, was the father of Joseph J., the subject of this sketch.

Captain Laughinghouse's father died in November, 1802, and left him practically in charge of his mother's business. She died in March, 1803. He then went to Horner's Military school, where he remained until April, 1804, leaving school to join the Junior Reserves, composed of seventeen-year-old boys, Company II, Seventy-first Regiment, of which company he was elected First Lieutenant, and the following October (1st) four days before he was seventeen years old, he was promoted Captain. He is said to have been the youngest Captain of any North Carolina troops. The first four months after his enlistment he served as Adjutant of his regiment. The regiment was in General Hoke's Division of General Joseph E. Johnston's army the last four months of the war.

After the war Captain Laughinghouse taught school a year, clerked a year and at the age of twenty was engaged in the shingle business, making some money. His father's estate, somewhat encumbered, had suffered heavily by the war, necessitating the sale of the land in 1869. He became the purchaser, and went to work with a will to redeem it, and in time was successful. He has always been an active democrat and has served many years as committeeman, both of his township, county and State. He was almost a lifelong Justice of the Peace. He was four years an Associate Justice of the County Inferior Court.

In 1904 he was elected a member of the legislature (House) and re-elected in 1906. In 1909 Governor Kitchin appointed him Superintendent of the State prison and farms. Under his management the earnings of the first year were more than doubled. He has been one of the county's largest and most successful farmers and at one time was said to be the largest tobacco grower in the State. He is a prominent Mason.

In 1870 he married Eliza, daughter of the late Dr. C. J. O'Hagan. They have three children living: Dr. C. O'H. Laughinghouse of Greenville, Mrs. J. Bryan Grimes of Raleigh, and Ned Laughinghouse of Greenville.

LATHAM, MAJOR LOUIS CHARLES, son of Charles Latham, was born at Plymouth, N. C., September 11th, 1840. His father was a prominent lawyer of Plymouth.

Major Latham was prepared for college in the Plymouth schools and graduated from the University of North Carolina in 1859. He read law under Judge Asa Biggs and then attended Harvard Law School.

The events of 1860-1 interrupted his studies. He returned home, volunteered, and May 20, 1861, was made Captain of Company G, First Regiment. He was wounded at Sharpsburg and soon thereafter promoted Major of the regiment. He commanded the regiment at Chancellorsville and was wounded at the Wilderness, May 5th, 1864. Recovering he again joined the army and surrendered with General Lee at Appomattox. While at home in 1864 he was elected to the legislature (House). At the close of the war he resumed his law studies and was soon licensed to practice. In 1870 he was elected to the State Senate and in the absence of Judge Warren, President of the Senate, he was always chosen to preside. He was a candidate for the democratic congressional nomination in 1872, '74 and '78, but defeated, and in 1880 was nominated by acclamation and also elected. He was again a candidate in 1882, but was defeated by W. F. Pool. He came to Greenville in 1875 and was a Tilden and Hendricks elector in 1876. In 1886 he was again a candidate and elected to Congress. After this term he devoted himself to his profession, being one of the ablest and most eloquent lawyers in the State. He died October 16th, 1896.

Major Latham was twice married. His first wife was a Miss Normcum, of Plymouth, by whom he had one child. His second wife was a Miss Montiero, of Richmond, Va., by whom he had four children, one of whom is now United States Consul.

MOORE, DAVID COLUMBUS, son of David and Arcenia Moore, was born September 18th, 1850. His father was a farmer and had two sons in the Confederate army.

Mr. Moore received a common school education and farmed a number of years. In 1877 he was elected a Justice of the Peace, which position he held twenty years. In 1878 he was elected a member of the legislature (House) and reelected in 1880. Having moved to Bethel he was first elected Mayor in 1878 and by reelection he was Mayor sixteen years. In 1885 he was elected member of the County Board of Education, serving two years. In 1891-92 he was deputy register of deeds under D. H. James, and also in 1893 under Major Harding. In 1898 he was elected clerk of the Superior Court and reelected in 1902, 1906 and 1910. He is an active democrat and has served as member of both his township and county executive committees. He is an Odd Fellow and a Red Man.

In 1875 he married Martha C. Andrews, daughter of Henry and Mary A. Andrews. They have four children: Andrew J., assistant cashier Greenville Banking and Trust Company; Thomas J., teller of the Murchison National Bank of Wilmington; A. Thurman, deputy clerk of Pitt Superior Court, and David C. Jr., attending school.

SKETCHES OF PROMINENT

KING, RICHARD WARREN, third son of Thomas and Martha A. (Turnage) King, was born near what is now Farmville, September 11th, 1858. Receiving a common school education, he began clerking in a country store before he was grown. Later in other business he canvassed much of the eastern counties. In 1882 he was appointed deputy sheriff under Sheriff King, which position he held for the three terms of his uncle. In 1888 J. A. K. Tucker was elected sheriff and he was continued in office of deputy sheriff for the two terms of Sheriff Tucker. So acceptably and efficiently had he performed the duties of deputy for ten years that in 1892 he was nominated by the Democrats for the office of sheriff and elected at the following election. In 1894 the county commissioners refused to accept the bond of sheriff-elect, W. H. Harrington, and appointed him sheriff for the ensuing two years. Having served altogether fourteen years in the office he was not a candidate for renomination in 1896. In 1906 he was elected a county commissioner and under that administration, the steel bridges at Greenville and Grifton were built. He has always taken an active interest in politics and served on many committees, having been a member of the county, district and many other committees. He is a member of the Christian (Disciple) church and a Mason.

September 28th, 1891, he married Mattie E., daughter of W. B. and Mattie E. (Edwards) Moye. They have seven children living.

SKINNER, COLONEL HARRY, son of James C. and Elmira W. Skinner, was born in Perquimans county, May 25th, 1855. His father was a member of the legislature (House) several times from Chowan county and also clerk of the Court of Perquimans county near forty years. His grandfather, Henry Skinner, represented Chowan county a number of times in the legislature in both Houses and later represented Perquimans many terms in both houses of the legislature. He was also a member of the Governor's Council. His great-grandfather, William Skinner, represented Perquimans at the Halifax Convention of 1776, and on the organization of troops in 1776 was elected Lieutenant Colonel. He was later promoted Brigadier General. The Skinners were from England and among the early settlers of Albemarle, where they became large planters and slave owners and very influential. His mother was a daughter of Allen Ward, a large planter.

Colonel Skinner was prepared for college at Hertford Academy and graduated from Kentucky University at Lexington with degree of L. B in 1875. He had studied law and was sworn in as an attorney at Lexington, but coming to Greenville, he continued its study under Major L. C. Latham and was licensed in North Carolina in 1876. He at once formed a partnership with Major Latham. In 1878 he was elected a member of the democratic congressional committee. From 1880 to 1884 he was chairman of the Pitt county democratic executive committee and in 1883 also chairman of the congressional committee. In 1888 he was elected to the legislature (House), and being a strong Alliance man took a prominent part in matters pertaining to its cause. When it resulted in the formation of the populist party, he was one of its organizers and an active participant in its proceedings. He canvassed the State in 1892, and was the populist candidate for Congress in the first district in 1894. He was elected and reelected in 1896, but was defeated in 1898. He is now the only living ex-representative of the first district.

In 1901 he was appointed United States District Attorney for the Eastern District of North Carolina by President McKinley, and re-appointed in 1905 by President Roosevelt. Since the expiration of his second term he has devoted himself to his large law practice in both the State and Federal Courts. He is a Mason and an Odd Fellow. He is public spirited and enterprising and principally through his efforts a building and really the public school for Greenville resulted, which grew into the graded school.

Colonel Skinner has been twice married. His first wife was Miss Monteiro, of Richmond, Virginia, by whom he had four children, one of whom, Harry Skinner, Jr., an able and bright young lawyer, with great promise of a useful and brilliant career, lost his life in an automobile accident near Greenville, November 3d, 1909. His second wife was Ella Montiero, of Greenville, by whom he has one son.

LAUGHINGHOUSE, CAPTAIN JOSEPH JOHN, son of Joseph H. and J. A. Laughinghouse, was born in Pitt county, October 4th, 1847. When Thomas Laughinghouse came to America about 1750 he left his brothers engaged in the wholesale grain business in Liverpool. Their descendants have continued the business to the present time. Thomas settled in Pitt (then Beaufort) county. John, a son of Thomas, was an officer in the Revolution, serving under General Washington and was with him at Yorktown. John had three sons, Thomas, who went porters and reporters, Alexander took the oath of office in the state Supreme Court hearing room, three days ahead of Saturday's inauguration, which proceeded on schedule.

The action, unprecedented in Tennessee's 192 years, followed by less than two days a Monday night clemency spree in Blanton's Capitol office in which he granted three pardons and reduced the sentences of 49 prisoners, making 30, including 17 serving long terms for murder, eligible for immediate, unsupervised freedom.

Exactly a month earlier, the FBI had arrested two members of Blanton's legal staff and a veteran highway patrolman who was a friend of Blanton's brother. All three were charged with extortion and conspiracy to sell pardons, commutations and other forms of executive clemency.

Congressmen, unions urge shipyards study

CONCORD, N.H. (AP) — Congressmen and union leaders have demanded that the federal government immediately broaden its investigation of radiation-induced cancer deaths at Portsmouth Naval Shipyard to include nuclear yards across the nation.

"It is urgent that Health Secretary (Joseph) Califano immediately launch a full-scale investigation of the health records of a quarter million present and former shipyard workers across the country," Rep. Edward Markey, D-Mass., said Wednesday.

"It is increasingly clear that a public health hazard of major proportions is being mishandled by the Navy and the Department of Health, Education and Welfare," he said in a telephone interview.

Markey was referring to a congressionally ordered investigation of a Boston doctor's study which indicated that nuclear workers at the Portsmouth yard were dying of cancer at a rate double that of non-nuclear workers.

The government evaluation, which is being conducted by the Center for Disease Control, has focused on 25,000 present and former Portsmouth workers at the Kittery, Maine, yard.

Some members of a team of civilian scientists assigned by Congress to watchdog the CDC investigation have criticized the government's effort.

Last week, one expert charged that the government had covered up the survey and another dropped off the panel because he couldn't get direct access to government files.

Sen. John Durkin, D-N.H., met with Califano on Tuesday and urged that the investigation be "smoothed out, vended and gotten back on track."

The eight yards are located in Norfolk and Newport News, Va.; Charleston, S.C.; Puget Sound, Wash.; Mare Island, Calif.; Groton, Conn.; Pascagoula, Miss., and Pearl Harbor.

The Associated Press contacted union leaders at the eight yards and found unanimous agreement that the federal study should be expanded.

"I feel the study should be expanded and completed," Ed Lowe, president of the Pascagoula Metal Trades Council at Ingalls said Friday, "but I don't want a panic or shutting down of jobs because of an incomplete survey."

Two sisters, Mrs. Annie Mae Randall and Mrs. Mary Louise Hammond, both of Moss Point; 19 grandchildren, 14 great-grandchildren, nieces, nephews and other relatives.

Visitation will be from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m. Tuesday in Robinson's Friendly Funeral Home.

Service 1 p.m. Wednesday in St. Paul United Methodist Church with the Rev. Harold Leverette, pastor, officiating. Interment in St. Paul's Cemetery.

Arrangements by Robinson's Friendly Funeral Home.

BROADUS

Mrs. Sarah Marie Lavinghouse Broadus, 71, 3012 Old Mobile Ave., Pascagoula, died Friday, Jan. 19, 1979, in Singing River Hospital.

She was born in Mobile Jan. 28, 1907, daughter of the late Eugene Lavinghouse and Addie Spratley Lavinghouse. She had lived in Pascagoula since early childhood.

She was the widow of the late Theodore John Broadus Sr.

She was a member of Calvary Baptist Church.

Survivors include six sons, Theodore G. Broadus Jr., W. C. Broadus, Charles Broadus, Jerry Broadus and Ernest Broadus, all of Pascagoula, and Raymond Broadus, Gautier.

BROADWAY

Mrs. Margaret Frances Broadway, 54, Elmore, Ala., died Thursday, Jan. 18, 1979, in Montgomery, Ala.

Survivors are her husband, Bill Broadway, Elmore; her mother, Mrs. Nora Finch, Gautier; five brothers, Harmon Bullard, Montgomery, Ed Bullard, Prattville, Ala., Ronald Bullard and Robert Bullard, both of Gautier, and Sam Bullard, Mobile; two sisters, Mrs. Inez Haddox, Lafayette, Ala., and Mrs. Richard Smith, Escatawpa; and other relatives.

Funeral services were held Saturday, Jan. 20, at the White Chapel Funeral Home in Montgomery, Ala.

"And I thought, 'Team, I bet you have!'"

Elsewhere in the article, Mrs. Allen writes, "George Wallace relishes power as few people on this earth ever have, and as I've sat a political prisoner on countless rostrums, stages and podiums listening to him rant and posture about 'Polacks' in East St. Louis and Duluth and being 'spat upon' in Chicago, I have wondered in fear and awe what this little swaggering, power-hungry gamecock would do if he ever really had power. Real power."

Tornado hits near Yazoo

YAZOO CITY, Miss. (AP) — A tornado touched down south of here late Saturday but caused no damage or injuries, a Yazoo City police officer said.

Capt. Caesar Felton said the twister hit in a rural area about four miles south of Yazoo City.

"We heard of just that one and just a lot of rain and winds about 37 mph," he said.

"We've had flooding in the low-lying areas. It's looking bad down here," Felton said.

The National Weather Service said a complex weather system caused pressure to plummet, and that spawned heavy rain, strong winds and hail in east central Mississippi.

No objections presented to George County bonds

LUCEYDALE — No objections to validation of the George County bond issue to purchase land for an industrial park were presented during a public hearing Friday in the courthouse, according to Chancery Clerk James Harrison.

Harrison said he and Sidney Barnett, attorney for the Board of Supervisors, will deliver the bonds to the buyer, First Tennessee Bank in Memphis, Tuesday.

A $274,000 bond issue was approved by George County voters in November.

Harrison said the 70 some acres for the industrial park will be purchased when he and Barnett return from Memphis.

Naked man came after services

The naked man who entered a Pascagoula church Thursday night came into the auditorium after services, a church spokesman said. He said the service was over and most of the congregation was in the dining room area when the incident occurred. Police who took the man claiming to be Jesus Christ to the hospital had understood the incident occurred during services.

Gas line blamed for Point fire

A leak in the natural gas line to a water heater is blamed by Moss Point firemen for a blaze which did extensive damage to a house Friday afternoon.

Firemen were called to the home of Percy Webb, 4625 Hubert St., at 1:22 p.m. Friday. When they arrived, smoke was seen coming from all parts of the house, firemen said.

They said fire damage was confined to a hallway, the attic and the roof but there was heavy smoke damage throughout the dwelling.

Damage was estimated at $8,000 to the structure valued at $10,000. Loss of contents valued at $5,000 was estimated at $4,000.

No injuries were reported.

Capt. Charles Bernard directed firemen from all three fire stations in putting out the blaze.
